Dear Fellow CPA:

I believe the potential savings and efficiencies the ImageMaker software can bring to your office will be significant. In fact, I believe so strongly in this product that after seeing a demonstration of the product and coupled with the extremely low price, I bought the software on the spot and began incorporating its use into my practice.

As we convert our current filing system through the ImageMaker software we intend to achieve a number of positives for both our office and our clients:

- Storage space will become less of a problem since all files will be on our computer system or on CD.
- Misfiling will be eliminated since all the files will have been scanned onto our hard drive and/or CD's and available for review without any refileing necessary.
- The time to retrieve a file will be cut substantially since the search function instantaneously finds the file. Adding pages to an existing client file is easily done by ImageMaker.
- Security for any off-site storage is eliminated since all the files will be on site. Backup for the files can exist in secure offsite storage such as a safety deposit box.
- Should we need a hard copy of the files the print function makes this simple.
- Should a client need any copies of information, the software allows for production of hard copies or production of a CD containing the client information to transmit to the client. Additionally, the PDF files made by ImageMaker can be emailed to the client where they can be viewed or printed with the free Acrobat Reader software.

The system is very simple and takes little training. My staff is excited about the software as am I and I am confident you will also be that excited when ImageMaker is available in your office.

Sincerely,

Richard N. Womack, CPA
